

Thank a Youth Worker Day

May 8, 2014

THANK A YOUTH WORKER

What Can I Do?

Most Important:

Start by thinking of 5 youth workers who impact your life or community and thank them on May 8 via card, call, visit, etc.

Now help spread the word:

1. Put Thank a Youth Worker Day (TAYWD) on your calendar for May 8.
2. Check out the TAYWD website at <http://www.thankayouthworkerday.org>.
3. Send a link to the TAYWD web page to your friends and colleagues.
4. Sign up on the website to let us know you're out there and to receive info and a reminder.
5. Wear and display an orange awareness ribbon on and in advance of TAYWD. Ribbons are available for purchase at Awareness Ribbons: <http://www.awarenessribbons.com/ribboncat.html>
6. Engage your friends and colleagues to get involved and celebrate TAYW Day.
7. Update your Facebook or Twitter status and include the TAYW Day link. One FB example: "Today is Thank a Youth Worker Day. Make this your status today and thank a youth worker who impacts your life or community."
8. Add a TAYW Day tag to your email signature.
9. Personally ask a local youth serving organization to get involved.
10. Write or blog about TAYW Day or the importance of youth workers in your community or your life.
